Modern Slavery Act 2015: Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

Introduction from the Managing Director

This statement sets out actions taken by Ishida Europe Ltd (“Ishida” or the “Company” or the “employer”) to understand and mitigate potential modern slavery risks related to its business, and to put in place steps that are aimed at ensuring that there is no slavery or human trafficking in its own business, or supply chain.

We are committed to improving our practices to combat slavery and human trafficking. For example, Ishida are active members of SEDEX (Supplier Ethical Data Exchange), which allows us to provide ethical data to our customers. We are proud to be part of the Real Living Wage Foundation.

We have also adopted a Suppliers’ Code of Business Conduct to address workplace issues such as working hours, child labour, forced labour, non-discrimination, freedom of association, health and safety and the environment. This code of conduct applies to our own operations, and we seek to identify and do business with companies that have aligned their standards with Ishida’s Code of Conduct, including working to cascade these expectations throughout their own supply chain.

We expect our suppliers to agree to our Supplier Code of Business Conduct which sets forth the standards and practices that apply to all suppliers of Ishida, such as fair treatment and equal opportunity, human rights, working hours and bribery.

Our Policies on Slavery and Human Trafficking

As part of our initiative to identify and mitigate risk, Ishida engages in supplier auditing. In conducting our audits Ishida refers to our Supplier Code of Business Conduct as a template for ensuring that appropriate codes of practice are installed and adhered to.

We have in place, systems which are:

- ▲ not cash or cash equivalent
- ▲ consistent with customary business practice and supplier company policy
- ▲ not frequent or expensive
- ▲ not in violation of any law
- ▲ protective of whistleblowers

Supplier Adherence to Our Values

Ishida is committed to a zero-tolerance policy to combat modern slavery or the trafficking of persons for any purpose and we expect our suppliers and contractors to uphold these important principles. Ishida does not tolerate human rights abuses, human trafficking and/or slavery, and will not engage or be complicit in any activity that solicits or encourages human rights abuse. To ensure that all supply partners comply with our values we have in place processes which consist of:

- ▲ Supplier auditing
- ▲ Code of Business Conduct
- ▲ Ongoing supplier assessments conducted regularly
- ▲ Periodic supplier visits
- ▲ Supplier conferences giving the opportunity to further deploy our policies to major suppliers

We have a compliance team, to identify and mitigate risk and uphold these important principles.

Training

To ensure a high level of understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our supply chains and our business, we make training available to our staff.

Our Effectiveness in Combating Slavery and Human Trafficking

We have a Supplier Development team whose aim is to develop relationships with our suppliers. We believe that our industry sector, supplier selection, supplier auditing and assessments and direct supplier visits, coupled with long term supplier relationships, help us to be compliant in this regard.

We intend to take the following further steps to combat slavery and human trafficking:

- ▲ Development of the compliance team;
- ▲ Further sharing of best practice;
- ▲ Better links between our internal teams who manage suppliers;
- ▲ Use Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) to measure our business performance and how effective we have been to ensure that slavery and human trafficking is not taking place in any part of our business or supply chains; and
- ▲ Continued Supplier auditing.

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes our slavery and human trafficking statement for the financial year ending March 2020.
